Improvement in L. & N. Yards.

Blue prints for immediate improvements in trackage, depot and office buildings of the Louisville & Nashville railroad in this city, aggregating $250,000, have been received at the office of Superintendent W. H. Anderson. The scheme of improvement embraces the tearing away of the freight depot and the erection of a building 35 feet wide and 250 feet long. The Northwest end of the building will be two stories high, the lower floor being equipped with offices and the upper one as a storage room for the records of the company. An additional track will be installed and the depot will be arranged in two divisions, one for outgoing freight for the different divisions of the road, and the other for the reception of incoming merchandise.

The greatest benefit to be derived by the public will be the accommodations at the passenger depot. The latter will be moved backward so as to afford a nineteen foot walk which will be concreted a distance of five hundred feet with an overhead covering as a protection from bad weather in winter and the sun in the summer. All switching of freight, the turn table and handling of engines will be removed to the yards near the junction leaving the tracks free from all business other than that of passenger trains.

Through trains, to and from the South will enter on the third track while local trains will occupy tracks No. 1 and No. 2, enabling passengers to have ingress and egress without climbing from one train to another. The new arrangement will prevent the blockading of the crossing at Winchester street, and greatly facilitate the prompt handling of baggage and express matter.

In the south yards a new office building will be erected for the reception of Yard-master Wilder and General Foreman Ed Gorey. Fifteen new tracks for the handling of freight trains will be installed and all trains for both ends of the roads will be made and dispatched from this point.

The south yards, where the company recently purchased of the Bacon heirs fifteen acres of land will soon be the scene of active building operations. In addition to several miles of new track and office building the company will install a large water tank, round house and machine shops.

The work is expected to be under headway within the next three weeks and will require a large force of skilled mechanics besides an unusually large amount of grading will be necessary.

A Rare Opportunity.

The ladies of Bourbon and surrounding counties will have a rare opportunity of witnessing one of the swiftest displays of millinery ever made in Central Kentucky at the millinery store of Mrs. Corne Watson Baird, on Friday, March 25. The stock of pattern hats of Mrs. Watson's teems with latest styles from the most fashionable centers of the East and the ladies should avail themselves of this opportunity of attending this elaborate display. A handsome souvenir given to the purchaser of each hat.

DEATHS.

—Mrs. Bridget Powers, wife of Mr. James Powers, died Friday night at her home on the Ruddles Mills pike. Mrs. Powers was the daughter of the late Michael and Johanna Hayes and is survived by her husband and one son, William Powers, and one daughter, Miss Johanna Powers.

Mrs. Powers was a sister of Thomas Hayes, of Denver, Col., and Miss Ellen Hayes, of Paris, and a half sister of Mrs. George Hines, of Cincinnati, Mrs. Richard Gregory, of Paris, and Mrs. J. P. Conway, of Winchester.

The funeral services took place Monday morning from the Church of Annunciation at 9 o'clock. Services by the Rev. Father Eugene DeBruyn. Interment in the Paris Catholic cemetery.

—Mr. George Redmon, formerly a resident and business man of this city, died Saturday afternoon at his home in Charleston, W. Va., after a protracted illness of Bright's Disease.

Mr. Redmon, who was in his seventy-first year, was a son of W. T. and Sallie Lair Redmon, of Bourbon. His early boyhood days were spent on the farm of his father near this city. At the outbreak of the Civil War his sympathies were with the South and he enlisted in the Confederate service with Company C, Ninth Kentucky Infantry, under the command of Captain Ed Taylor, who with Col. Jos. Hedges are the only surviving commissioned officers of the heroic company. Mr. Redmon participated in all the principal battles in which this company was engaged and by his gallantry and daring arose to the rank of Lieutenant, in which he served until the close of the war.

At the close of the war he moved from his farm to this city where he and his brother, the late Chas. Redmon, built the residence on High street now occupied by Mr. Jos. W. Davis. In this city Mr. Redmon was engaged in the dry goods business under the firm name of Redmon & Bro., at the same time conducting the old Bourbon House, which is now known as the Windsor hotel, from the year of 1866 to 1875.

In the year of 1875 Mr. Redmon located in Texas, but later moved to Charleston, W. Va., where he has resided for a number of years. Only one of his immediate family survives him, Mrs. Mary Jane Redmon, of Texas, who is now in her eightieth year.

The death of Mr. Redmon marks the passing away of the third member of Company C., of the Ninth Kentucky within the past eighteen months, Mr. John W. Penn and Col. A. T. Forsyth, having answered the final summons.

The remains arrived in this city last evening at 6:20 and were taken to the residence of Mr. H. O. James, on Pleasant street. The interment will take place in the Paris cemetery this morning at 10 o'clock with services at the grave by the Confederate veterans.

—Mr. Wm. L. Davis, aged 94 years, died in Maysville Sunday of the infirmities of old age. He was a member of the Odd Fellows and probably the oldest member of the order in the United States.

MATRIMONIAL.

—The marriage of Miss Julia Hogue Spencer of Lexington, to Mr. William Breckinridge Ardery of Paris, will be a beautiful event of April. The wedding will be celebrated on the evening of April 14 at 7 o'clock, at the Central Christian church, the bride's father, the Rev. I. J. Spencer, officiating. Miss Eva Spencer, a sister of the bride, will be maid of honor, and Mr. William Woodford, of Paris, best man, and there will be four groomsmen. On the evening before the wedding Rev. and Mrs. Spencer will entertain the bridal party informally at their home on Walnut street.

A Guarantee.

I guarantee the hanging of every roll of paper my decorators put on your wall. When somebody from the moon hangs it for you and anything happens, you are compelled to go to the moon to see about it and then maybe it is not made right.

J. T. HINTON.

BIRTHS.

—Born, in Lexington, to the wife of Prof. H. K. Frankie, a son, weight eight pounds. Mrs. Frankie is a niece of Mr. A. J. Winters, of this city.

—Born, on Sunday to the wife of Mr. G. A. Smith, at Kutch, Col., formerly Miss Elizabeth Huddleston, of this city, a 12 pound daughter.

Chinamel Notice.

We want to see you at our store on the 22 and 23 of March. The occasion is very special. A representative of one of the leading manufacturers of wood decorating material will be with us, with a full line of samples to show our visitors.

This is not a sale—but a display of beautiful colorings and finishings for wood work and floors.

It is your opportunity to get ideas also to learn how the red-tape of old methods of wood finishing may be cut and the process once so mysterious be so simplified as to enable everyone to do their own decorating at very slight expense.

You can learn how to put a new Mission Finish, supplying the grain as well as color, on the wood work of a room without the expense of taking off the old paint or varnish—and treat old furniture to match.

You can learn how to make soft wood floors equal to hardwood, in looks and wear.

You can learn how to make your hard wood floors water proof, heel proof, scratch proof.

You can save your old furniture from the second hand man.

All the above and much more you can learn; it is absolutely free; you need not feel obliged to spend any money. Don't forget the date, March 22 and 23.
